WAR MEMORIAL CONSERVATION - EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST INVITED

Kennington Community Council invites Expressions of Interest from suitably qualified and experienced contractors who may wish to Tender for conservation of the War Memorial in Kennington.

The Memorial stands at the junction of Ulley Road and Ball Lane, Kennington, Ashford, Kent. It was completed in 1922. It is in the form of an obelisk, believed to be brick and concrete construction, with a cement render finished to represent ashlar stonework. It has bronze and stone plaques commemorating residents of Kennington whose lives were lost in the First and Second World War.

The work will be to an existing approved Schedule and Method Statement, but in outline will require the repair of hairline cracks in the render, repair of concrete steps at the base of the structure, cleaning of the memorial, cleaning and conservation of the bronze and granite plaques. The Council may appoint a consultant to supervise the work.

If you wish to express an interest, please write to us (or e-mail) with the following information:
